Company Introduction

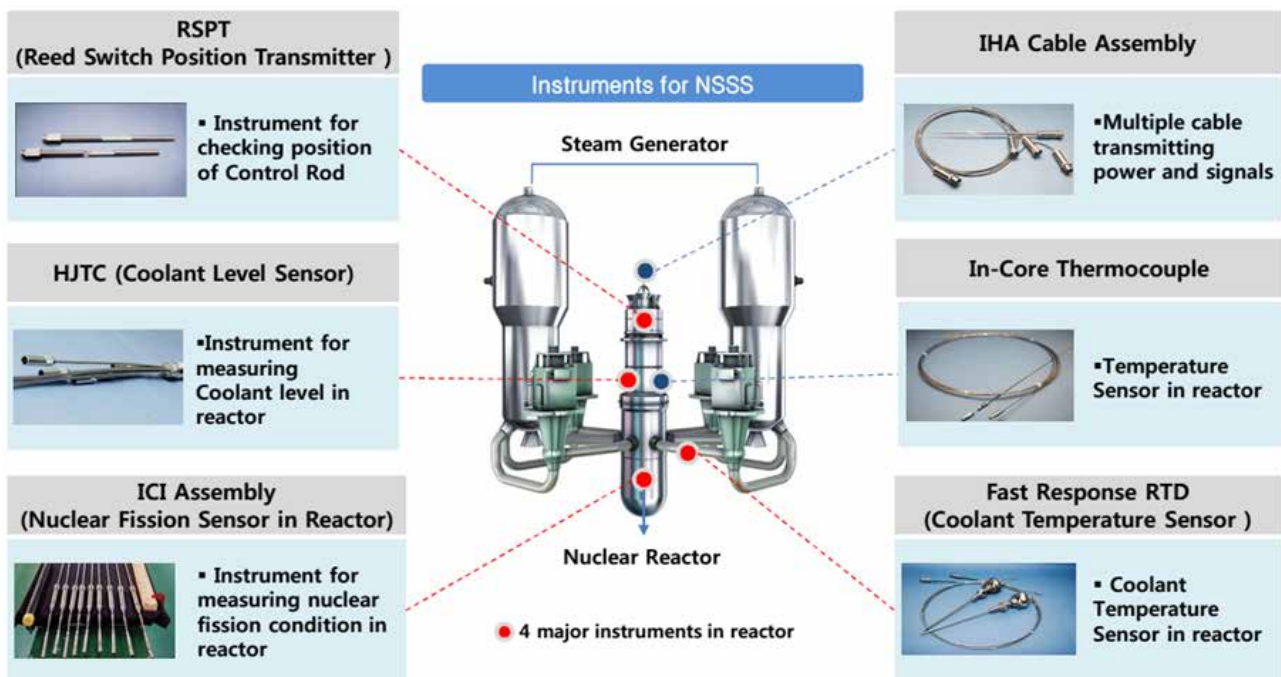

When big economic expansion was the main value of an enterprise, WOJIN decided to take care of a rather neglected part of the industry which was the instrumentation business. Sensing and Measurement Technologies are the nerve network of an industry and Woojin's choice to support the Korea economy.

Sharing glory and pain with the history of our industry and insisting in going only one path, Woojin has been constantly investing in research and development as well as in high-tech equipments. And now Woojin has come to a position where it dares to turn its attention towards the global stage.

Just as every great person had a devoted assistant, WOJIN always will be supporting the Korea industry from an unexpected position, by performing its duties as the nerve network of industry.
